On May 19, 2017, a pilot project will begin taking place in 2 court rooms in New Castle County. Judge Ostroski (former Family Court Commissioner) will be active as one of the judicial officers providing litigants with information at the start of the PFA process.

Phase 2 of the pilot project involves having two PFA days in New Castle County instead of just one day. Chief Judge Newell also stated that some of the Commissioners have been adding additional details regarding finding of abuse in PFA orders after a hearing. Judge Ranji (Family Court) stated that increasing PFA days will help to make the day feel like less of a cattle call approach on PFA Days. Judge Ranji also stated that Commissioner Southmayd will be developing a core document that can be provided to litigants in custody cases. This form is scheduled to be created by August 2017.

Also, Family Court Mediators had training on May 5, 2017. This training was facilitated by Professor Dana Harrington Conner and Professor Alicia Kelly, Delaware Law School. DVCC Committee Updates:

Treatment: Aimee stated that Barbara Goldberg will have a final report to the DVCC by May 15th.

Elderly & DV: The draft “Elderly and Domestic Violence Report” was provided for the Council’s review. The report includes recommendations submitted by the Committee. Pat would like to release the Elderly and DV Committee report to the public in advance of the World Elder Abuse Awareness Day on June 15th. Council members were asked to provide comments to Moe or Pat no later than June 1st. This would allow staff adequate time to release the report by their goal date.

Children & DV: Secretary Manning stated that the Committee is examining the Separating and Divorcing Parents Curriculum while seeking additional information on what domestic violence information is included in the classes. Secretary Manning is seeking a way to reduce barriers for litigants attending the parenting class.

Criminal Justice: Natasha Smith discussed the formation of the Domestic Violence High Risk Team Ad Hoc Advisory Board. This Ad Hoc Advisory Board is working on issues concerning information sharing across agencies, confidentiality, forms and a cost analysis for creation of a successful domestic violence high risk team. The Ad Hoc Advisory Board is currently working on a referral sheet to capture consistent criteria for those who could benefit from a DV High Risk Team. The Ad Hoc Advisory Board is also looking at the V.I.P. Program as a possible source for referrals for DV High Risk Cases.

Natasha also discussed that a meeting was scheduled with the Chair and Executive Director of the Delaware Police Chiefs' Council but had to be cancelled due to the death of Corporal Ballard. The DVCC staff will have a resource table at the upcoming Delaware Police Chiefs' Council Seminar next week.

Medical Committee: Aimee stated that there is currently no chair for the Committee and it is on hold. Judge Poppitti suggested reaching out to a Nurse Practitioner as the chair of this committee.

Public Awareness: Pat discussed expanding the Teen Dating Violence/Healthy Relationship Poster contest to statewide high school students in February 2018.

Training Committee: Ellie stated that the first meeting of the Committee is scheduled for Friday, May 12 at Middletown Police Department. A Save the Date was sent via email statewide for domestic violence training with Dave Adams from EMERGE on September 20, 2017 for Court personnel and September 21, 2017 for stakeholders.

Kent/Sussex Collaborative: Aimee is considering changing the format of this meeting to a quarterly brown bag meeting with a speaker.

Fatal Incident Review Team Report

Natasha Smith provided an overview and highlight of the Fatal Incident Review Team Report. Moving forward, the DVCC is looking to add additional data to the report once the FIRT database is complete. Dr. Silverstein requested that the Delaware data be compared to the National data on domestic violence because Delaware has relatively low numbers compared to other states. In addition, Natasha will check the possibility of tracking active Criminal No-Contact orders in place as well as if the perpetrator was released on bail or on probation at the time of the fatal incident. Dana Harrington Conner stated that even if we are unable to find the data in previous reviews we should be able to track this information moving forward.

Announcements:

The Chair had three announcements. The DVCC will be holding a Strategic Planning Day in November. An email was sent to Council members during the previous week, surveying dates for the week of November 13th. DVCC Staff will be looking to contract with a facilitator. The possible format may be a morning meeting with key-community stakeholders. Afternoon will be for the Council members. More details will follow.

Chief Judge Newell announced that nomination period will be open for the Outstanding Community Service Award. This is annual award given by the DVCC to recognize service and contribution to Delaware's response to DV.
